Tubbut Mural

Next time you are driving past the Tubbut Supper Room Hall you will notice we have a beautiful new mural on the wall.

The mural was developed during creative workshops and pays homage to Alan Neven and his bees, who have been keeping the district in honey for many years.

On Saturday and Sunday the 10th and 11th of October community came together under the mentorship of local artist Josh Willoughby to paint the mural. It was a lovely couple of days and we would like to thank everyone that came to help. We hope you enjoyed yourselves. Also a special thank you to Josh for staying on until Monday to finish the mural.

We would like to say thank you to Shoshana Keller who put forward the idea of creative workshops and worked with our Council Place Facilitator, Kath Macdonald to develop an application to apply for funding. Shoshana coordinated the pottery workshops and organised everyone on the theme of honey, bees, and apple box trees. Thank you to the Deddick Valley Isolated Community Group and Neighbourhood House for managing the grant and to Heather Scroope for watching over our safety on the weekend. And always.

We would also like to say a big thank you to Crownies paint supplier in Bairnsdale and particularly to Peter Camera the Managing Director. Peter donated brushes, tape and some paint to the project, he also heavily discounted the paint we did purchase to support our community project. Thanks Peter.

Another thank you to Josh and all of the painters! Or should we say, artists. You did a fabulous job and we love the work. Thank you to Cary and Shoshana for undercoating the wall and Phillip for the scaffolding. We know we will be overrun with visitors wanting to see the artwork. Make sure you pop into the Neighbourhood House and say hello when you come by to see it.

The Deddick Valley Isolated Community Group were the applicants for this mural along with pottery workshops that took place over 2025/26. They were supported by a grant funded by the Gippsland Community Foundation. So, a final thank you to Michelle Dowsett and the Gippsland Community Foundation Board for supporting us.

Visit for inspection and examination. Present 10

1 Grounds - The site is unfenced. A portion which is used for flower bed and plots. Good attention is given to the growing of flowers; some well grown seedlings were seen. The agricultural work does not to appear to have been so successful. The area is cleared and good playing spaces are available.

2. Buildings (?) equipment - The leased building is small but serves the creational need for the present. There is no shelter: a verandah serves the purpose. Lighting and ventilation are adequate. The toilets are in a generally satisfactory condition but requires sanitation; in one a new pan is necessary and both should be screened. The interior of the school is not lines. A good effort has been made to make the walls attractive. Pictures (?) and aids are well arranged. Vases of wild flowers add to the general appearance. The old desks have a well cared for appearance. The teacher s table and desk are well arranged: good regard is paid to the maintenance of as attractive environment as the circumstances permit. There is a small library; a sum of pounds, raised in connection with the school savings bank was recently invested in additional books for some fine supplementary readers have been obtained. At present the school has non complete metrological equipment, it is hoped that some means may be found of raising funds to purchase the instruments necessary.

3 Organisation - There are eleven pupils in attendance; grades 5, 3, 2 and 1 are represented. All the pupils of school age in the district are in attendance; there are two other very young children. Of the pupils, six are related. The retardation is due to late entry and illness. An effort has been made to reduce the high percentage. The second grade girl should now be tried wholly in her normal grade. Good work is being done to advance the old pupils in grade 1. It is felt that the teacher has given good consideration to the problem. The pupil is young. The mid yearly examinations have been held. The papers were of a suitable standard. A useful report has been written by the Head Teacher; it should be written in the roll in the spaces provided. It is desirable that in order to promote the interest of parent in the progress of their children individual reports should be issued. These, the parents should sign and return to the Head Teacher.

The work programmes were inspected on the grammar course, the work taken should be more detailed. In some of the composition lessons, the rules taken or revised are not stated. The drawing programme does not always show the definite work taken. It is hoped that the school will affiliate with the Schools Horticultural Society and the opportunities may be formed to take a more prominent part in Red Cross activities.

Instruction – The school writing is of a good standard, it is consistent with good in the 5th grade and the first. Reading except in grade III is fluent but not sufficiently distinguished; more attention should be given to expression in both reading and composition. The habit of speaking scarcely above a whisper which was noted in the previous report is not yet overcome. The pupils when at play speak quite distinctly. These children require much practice in oral composition and a strong effort should be made to encourage free and rational oral expression. The fundamentally weak subject in this school is mathematics. The 5th grade is weak on certain work included in the course for 4th grade; it is essential that all such work must be carefully taught and that much attention should be given to individuals.

In this small school much personal tuition is possible. Phonics drill should also constantly (be) given. The nature study is ion good lines but not enough has been done: it is not desirable to restrict the course in any subject. Political geography is well done but the other sections must be given their due prominence. Grade 1 is responding well to the oral history questioningA large map of Australia, constructed in the ground by the 5th grade pupils is used in the teachings of geography. A fair standard is reached in drawing. The school singing is tuneful and an effort is being made to improve standards. The present Head Teacher has been in charge since June. With more experience, more attention to the individual and concentration on the weak subjects mentioned, he should become a very fair measure of success.

Advocacy outcome: Temporary Disaster Roaming implemented

East Gippsland Shire Council welcomes the introduction of Temporary Disaster Roaming arrangements, which provide an important additional layer of telecommunications communications resilience for communities during natural disasters.

Australia's major telecommunications providers (Telstra, Optus and TPG) activated Temporary Disaster Roaming (TDR) from 1 October 2026. When a natural disaster disrupts one network, customers may be able to connect to another available network for essential calls, texts and limited data services, subject to network availability and operational requirements.

TDR is intended for major natural disasters such as bushfires, floods and cyclones and provides access to voice calls, SMS, and limited data for essential services and emergency information. More information can be found on the Telstra website.

The service allows customers impacted by network outages during eligible disasters to access another available telecommunications network for essential communications when conditions permit.

Mayor Cr Jodie Ashworth said the development aligns with long-standing advocacy by Council for improved telecommunications resilience.

"Reliable telecommunications are an essential service that communities rely on every day, and especially during emergencies when access to information can be critical to people's safety and wellbeing," Cr Ashworth said.

"Following major emergency events including the 2019-20 bushfires and the 2024 February storm event when telecommunications were lost, Council has consistently advocated for stronger telecommunications resilience. This has included emergency roaming arrangements, improved backup power, mandatory reliability standards and greater investment in regional communications infrastructure."

Council has consistently called for:

- Emergency roaming to be mandated for all carriers.
- Voice and data telecommunications to be formally recognised as an essential service.
- Mandatory infrastructure reliability standards.
- Greater investment to improve telecommunications resilience in the face of natural disasters and climate-related events.

"The introduction of disaster roaming is a positive step and demonstrates that the concerns raised by

Nominate someone who makes a difference

East Gippsland Shire Council is inviting the community to recognise outstanding local achievements by nominating deserving individuals and events for the 2027 East Gippsland Australia Day Awards.

The awards shine a light on the everyday heroes who make East Gippsland such a wonderful place to live, work and thrive. They acknowledge outstanding contributions to our community, including volunteering, community service, sport, arts, culture and environmental initiatives.

Nominations are now open in the following categories:

Citizen of the Year

Young Citizen of the Year (under 27 years of age on 26 January 2027)

Community Event of the Year (for events held in 2026)

Mayor Cr Jodie Ashworth encouraged people to think about the individuals and groups whose contribution may otherwise go unrecognised.

“Across East Gippsland, there are so many people who quietly give their time, energy and care to others,” Cr Ashworth said.

“They might be volunteering in their local community, helping to bring people together, supporting a sporting club, creating opportunities for others or simply stepping up when they are needed.

“These awards are a lovely way to acknowledge those contributions and say thank you.

“You don’t have to be a famous person or have done something extraordinary on a grand scale. Sometimes it is the consistent, generous contribution of someone who is simply there for their community that makes the biggest difference.

“I encourage everyone to think about who they know who deserves to be celebrated and take the time to nominate them.”

All nominees will be formally recognised at the East Gippsland Australia Day Awards ceremony in January 2027.

Nominations close at 5pm on Sunday 6 December 2026. Nomination forms are available online at eastgippsland.vic.gov.au, at Council’s Customer Service Centres and via the mobile bus service.
